In 2025, twelve years after the shipwreck of October 3 2013, the 12th Day of Remembrance and Reception in Lampedusa will focus on the theme of legacy: not only as a symbolic heritage, but as a right to identity, memory and justice. The Mediterranean, transformed into an invisible cemetery, is the place where stories and bonds are broken. The identification of victims therefore becomes a political and ethical act, necessary to restore dignity to migrants.
